

TRAINING TONE

Since leaving the West End stage and teaching voice training one-on-one for 10 years, David Greer has concentrated all his efforts on building the success that is Stageworx, Scotland's largest independent stage school.

Due to a continued and ongoing demand for his vocal expertise, David has decided the time is right to offer a limited number of dedicated hours per week to one-on-one vocal teaching.

Based in Stirling, these lessons will prove invaluable to those seeking to fine tune their vocal range for audition preparation purposes, or extending your singing range through better understanding of voice control or you simply wish to enhance your singing voice for fun!
